

Requirements

After installing ClickBlocks it is recommended to check your server for compliance with the framework's requirements. You can easily do this by running from your browser (or console) script <http://hostname/Framework/requirements.php> and follow its recommendations, if your server does not meet any requirement.